FINAL DAY TO CAST BALLOTS

Four O'clock Set as Deadline For Voting; Elections Will Decide Nine Student Offices

Four o'clock today is the deadline for voting in the ASSFSC special election. Polls have been set up in front of the student union and will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

According to Ed Sullivan, chairman of the special election, votes can be cast for only those candidates appearing on the official ballot. Write-in votes are invalid, he said.

Candidates For Who's Who To File Immediately

Today is the last opportunity SF State students have to make application for the annual "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Deadline for applications is 3:00 p.m. Application and nomination forms may be picked up in either the Associated Students business office, Hut T-1, or in Dean Wells' office, room 168, Administration Building.

This year, for the first time, every upper division student is being given an opportunity to make application. On-campus organizations and instructional divisions are also invited to nominate eligible students.

Candidates must be upper division students, with either junior senior or graduate standing; have an academic record well above average (1.5 or higher); with a record of active participation in at least three activities, and give evidence of positive leadership and service in the college.

After all applications and nominations have been verified as to academic standing and campus activity participation, a committee will screen applicants and prepare a list to be forwarded to the published of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

"Who's who in etain is a shrdlu shrdlu devoted to publicizing the activities and organizations of high-flying alligators in the third quarter except when the

In order to vote, students must present their student body cards and have them validated by the poll committee.

In the event that a candidate does not obtain a majority of the votes cast for his respective office, a runoff election will be held October 13 and 14 between the students receiving the highest number of votes.

The positions to be filled include vice-president, senior class; secretary-treasurer, junior class; vice-president, and secretary - treasurer, sophomore class; president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, freshman class; as well as two representatives-at-large.

The offices to be filled by this election are important posts that, with the help and interest of the entire student body, will be filled by able personnel, said Sullivan. He added that voting is not only a privilege but a duty as well.

Larry Conover Named State Campus King

Larry Conover, was elected Campus King at last Friday night's dance by the narrow margin of 12 votes. Conover, sponsored by Alpha Omega, was selected by student vote over three other candidates.

Gater Publicity

Publicity, news stories, and news-leads should be turned in at the Golden Gater office in Hut T-1 sure publication in the following by 5 p.m. Friday in order to as-week's edition.

Kenton Showcase Here in October

Stan Kenton, modern America's Man of Music, sends his "Jazz Showcase '55" to SF State on the evening of Wednesday, October 19.

The musical event will be held in the Creative Arts auditorium, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The concert will be presented by the ASSFSC. Admission will be $1 with a student body card, and $1.50 without. Tickets will be on sale at the door, and will be sold on a first come, first served basis.

Kenton, though not appearing in person, has assembled an array of the most outstanding musicians in the world of contemporary jazz for his showcase tour of west coast campuses.

Jazz artists who will perform in the concert here include Conti Condoli, Russ Freeman, Bud Shank, Hampton Hawes, Milt Bernhardt,

NAM Scholarship

The National Association of Manufacturers is sponsoring a new combination of a scholarship and a visit to the Congress of American Industry in New York.

Limited to students who are interested in becoming executives, the scholarship is intended to help students actually in need of financial assistance to complete their undergraduate work.

Applications are available in Dean Wells' office, room 168 in the Administration Building.

Chuck Thompson, Red Mitchell, and Sonny Criss. These musicians are former Kenton sidemen and are now recording artists in their own right.

Purpose of the "Stan Kenton Jazz Showcase" is to bring in close communication the student and artist—a musical meeting designed to offer brilliant entertainment as well as a brief education in modern conceptions.

Phi Lambda Chi Will Present 'Shipwreck Shag'

"Shipwreck Shag" is the theme for the annual sport dance given jointly by Phi Lambda Chi sorority and Alpha Zeta Sigma fraternity tonight, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the Women's Gym. Tickets are $1.50 per couple and $1.00 stag.

Bob Young and his orchestra will provide music for the affair.

Decorations will be in keeping with the "Shipwreck" theme and consist mainly of fish, fish nets, and seaweed.

Committee chairmen are Charlene Tobias, decorations; and Jerry Wright, Bob Woods, and Carl Willhoff (sp?). publicity.

"BERNARDINE" TICKETS

Tickets for tonight and tomorrow night's performances of Bernardine are still available for 60 cents in the Creative Arts Box Office from 1 to 4 p.m. today.

SUMMER STUDY IN SPAIN

By Bill Boldenweck

One of the more painless ways for students to supplement their formal education is travel, and each summer finds the student more and more shoving aside the ordinary, or gawking, type of tourist as the main class of American to be found on foreign shores.

The past season found Staters in such diversified places as Canada, Mexico, Japan, Scandinavia, and the Near East, on individual tours or studying at established institutions. Others took advantage of group tours organized especially for students as an adjunct to their regular September - to - June class work. One of these was sponsored by Dr. Sterling Wheelwright of the Creative Arts division, for the purpose of studying major cultural centers of Europe.

Among the migrant scholars spawned by the college was Jane Raisbeck, nursing major here, who spent the main part of the summer at the University of Valencia as part of a tour made under the auspices of University of San Francisco.

The USF group, consisting of 18 people from all over the state, flew from New York to Spain, and at the conclusion of the University's summer session, completed the trip with a once over lightly tour of Italy, Switzerland, France, and England. The tour also included a side trip to the island of Majorca in the Mediterranean Sea.

While in Valencia, the students pursued courses designed to further their general education as well as to give them a closer understanding of the history and culture of Spain.

The major impressions immediately striking the young American fresh off the plane, according to Miss Raisbeck, were of the extreme poverty of the majority of the population as compared with the fabulous wealth of the upper classes and the church. The condition of the people, while quite noticeable in the cities, was most openly apparent in the smaller towns and villages, she said.

In many of the small towns, and over the country-side, damage from the civil war may still be seen, and the omnipresent troops of Generalissimo Franco are very much in evidence, an indication of the hold that is being kept on the people.

One of the values of the tour was the opportunity to live in the manner of the Spanish. Dinner was eaten at 9:30 or later as a manner of course, and most evening activities began after 11. Two or three o'clock is considered a respectable hour for bedtime. It would seem since everyone has to rise and shine and attend classes as early as 9 a.m., to be quite a rugged life, except when one considers that the whole town shuts down from 1 to 4 p.m., so that all hands may enjoy a long nap.

Siesta time is quite important in the light of the tremendous heat of the cities. In Valencia, for instance, the summer weather is so bad that anyone who can possibly afford it goes north into the hills.

So many leave that the merchants of the city are forced to sponsor a huge mid-summer fair to lure their customers back to town, a highly successful maneuver, according to Miss Raisbeck, who states that the fair was jammed each night she was there.

She has brought home with her many memories of the Spanish food, "not very interesting"; prices, "very reasonable"; clothing, "poor"; bull-fights, "colorful, very interesting," and of the tour in general, "a wonderful way to spend the summer."

Letters to the Editor

Hints For Hollers

EDITOR: This is a gripe letter. My first one (believe it or not!)

I would like to comment on the cheer leaders' performances at our last football game between State and the University of Nevada and make some suggestions for their improvement.

First of all, I would like to say that I was surprised and delighted at the enthusiastic turn out of State rooters and their tremendous support of the team.

And now, on to the bone-picking. I hope the yell leaders will take to heart the following three suggestions:

1. Introduce a greater variety in number and type of yells.

2. Create more original and imaginative yells and stay away from such mediocrity as "rruffrruff!" and "Bull, bull the Bull-dogs!"

3. Pay more attention to the football game than to the yelling. If I'm not mistaken, the football rooting section was originally created to inspire the home team to victory. Last Friday night, when State needed what might have been crucial points after the touchdown, what were our yell leaders doing? They were leading the school song when they should have been yelling "Make that kick! Make that kick!"

Education Majors Invited to Join Student Teachers Association

The California Student Teachers Association is initiating an all-out membership drive, according to vice-president Sue Rucker.

CSTA members are "anxious to have all future and present education majors" join the organization, Miss Rucker announced. She emphasized that everyone who is interested in education is welcome, not just those who have already entered the department.

Calling CSTA membership "an opportunity to participate in regional workshops and events of the state program and become acquainted with educational leaders in California," Miss Rucker declared that the SF State chapter was the founder of CSTA and historically has taken an active part in its activities.

Members of the CSTA receive

Who's New? Who's Gone?

Many of the familiar faces on the campus are not visible this year. Resignations and leaves account for the majority of the missing. Several of the faculty have left to teach in other areas.

Those on sabbatical leaves are: Dr. Leonard W. Ascher, Dr. Joseph De Brum, Dr. Jerome H. Rothstein, Dr. Stanley W. Morse, Dr. Walter R. Hacker, Dr. Robert J. Stollberg, and Dr. Louis Wasserman.

Also on leave are: Mrs. Della Gillett, Miss Eleanor Skimin, Dr. Joseph Axelrod, Miss Marguerite A. Clifton, and Miss Justine Van Gundy.

Resignations were tendered by Mr. Frank R. Gerard, Dr. Richard Blum, Miss E. Moselle Gooch, Dr. Howard Hinde, Mr. John J. Healy, Miss Patricia Stafford, Dr. Erwin N. Helbert, Mr. William Switzer, Mrs. Alma S. Leach, Dr. George W. Madison, Dr. Nelson I. Wu, Dr. Grace Gerard, Dr. Lester Greene, Miss Elizabeth Godwin, Mr. Robert Hall, Dr. Thomas Liddicoet, Dr. Robert McBride, Mr. Ralph Mc Cormic, Mr. James Bennett, Miss Elizabeth Coppin, Mrs. Patricia Crocker, Mrs. Doris Fleenor, Mrs. Aileen Gaal, Mrs. Katherine Herbst, and Mrs. Naomi Layton.

Mrs. Olive Cowell, Professor of International Relations, is the one faculty member retiring this year. On the staff since 1919, she will spend the next two years in world travel.

Newspaper Week

We are now smack dab in the middle of Newspaper Week. Now this is all very fine, but Newspaper Week means nothing. We suggest that this title be changed to "Be Kind to Reporters, Printers, Admen, Photographers and Newspapers Week." Or better yet stretch this kindness to a month or two. Now this means that you smile when you see a reporter. Do not sneer and say "you butchered my name in the last edition." We didn't get enough space." You do not send a delegation to the printers to complain about your page 3 missing from the paper. Instead you take to him liquid refreshment and say how nice the paper looks. Next time he might oblige this act of kindness and leave out page five. You do not write letters to the editor criticising the fine publication. Instead you write and say how happy you are that you are blessed with such a fine publication. You are happy because your name was fouled up only three times in a story. So the game announced for a week from now was played last night. It wasn't worth seeing anyhow. So you say so. You don't beat up the photographer because your head was cut off the picture appearing in the sheet. Blame it on the low fog which hangs arounds all day. Of course sometimes we have to squeeze in an important story about the new patch of grass being grown by the student union, or a little bit about the percentage of married students over 21 with two or more children who work more than 20 hours a week as compared with the percentage of married students over 21 with two or more children who live off the good graces of their kind uncle Samuel, and sometimes has to go so it might as well be your head.

Observe retitled "Be Kind to Reporters, Printers, Adman, Photographers and Newspaper Week" by commenting profusely on the merits of the glorified publication.

Gator 2nd Half Rally Trounces Wolves 18-7

After a 92-yard kickoff return for a Nevada touchdown by halfback Chuck Harmon, the San Francisco State Gators pulled together and fought back in a second half rally to rip the stubborn Wolfpack by a score of 18-7 before a crowd of 2500 at Cox Stadium last Friday night.

The pigskin was tossed around loosely as both squads lost the ball a total of 13 times, seven for the Gators and six for Nevada. The Gator 11 lost five of their own fumbles, but recovered all of the Wolves.

PETERS RECOVERS

After Harmon's opening ramble for a Pack touchdown, Floyd Peters set up State's first score by recovering quarterback Ken Fujii's fumble on the Nevada 20-yard line. On the following play, Dick Ellis flipped a 20-yard touchdown pass to Ed Coats to make the score read 7-6.

The Gator gridmen had another chance to score early in the first period when tackle Chuck Murphy gathered in another Nevada fumble on the Blue and White's 21-yard stripe, but a couple of plays later the Purple and Gold fumbled on the Wolfpack 8-yard line.

ANOTHER FUMBLE

With two minutes left in the first half, Alligator guard Harry Greenberg picked up another lost pigskin on Nevada's 12-line, but fullback Bob Rodrigo lost it on the next play.

Joe Verducci's men shaped-up their offensive and defensive tactics to roar back in the second half and romp over the Reno squad which was still having trouble holding on to the ball.

SECOND GATOR TD

A 38-yard run by Gator right halfback Johnny Cochor, and an 18-yard aerial from Ellis to Coats to the Nevada 4-yard line set up the Gator's second touchdown of the night as Coats bucked over to put the Purple and Gold in the lead by a score of 12-7.

The Gators came close to scoring again a few moments later, but fullback Fil Jularbal fumbled on the Wolfpack 20-yard line and after another set of quick counter-fumbles, the third quarter came to an abrupt end.

In the fourth quarter the Alligator made things worse for the slipping Nevada pack, scoring one for the road in the waning moments of the game after a 72-yard drive which finally saw Sochor buck over into pay dirt from the one-yard line, and the Gators, who have not kicked a conversion since the beginning of the season, wound up on top 18-7.

A recurring theory that field hockey was invented by the head-shrinking Jivaro Indians, when a dropped head rolled and was playfully bated around with a spear butt, has been conclusively proved completely false.

Victorious Gators Host Aggies Here

A newly-inspired and enthused San Francisco State football team tonight will play host to the Cal Aggies for the third intercollegiate clash of this season. Having the taste of victory still fresh on their lips from last week, the Gator 11 should field their strongest team thus far.

On the other hand, the Cal Aggies, having so far won one, tied one and lost one, are a team to be reckoned with, or so says Victor Rowen, assistant football coach, who scouted them last week. In his own words, "the Cal Aggies will go a long way in deciding the league this year, even though last year they didn't win a game."

Rowen further related that a back by the name of Vess would have to be stopped if State is to win. The Cal Aggies have the youngest football team with an end named Demren, being the only senior on the squad.

The Gators will have a few slight changes in the line, but the same backfield will prevail as before. LaChapelle, SF lineman, hurt his nose last week and may not start.

Both State and the Cal Aggies are the league's most improved teams with similar records, and the game may be a close one.

Golden Murals

The intramural sports program, 1955 edition, will begin immediately with a full schedule of activities being offered. The program is ably directed by coaches William Harkness, Arthur Bridgman, and Vic Rowen, all of the athletic department.

Volleyball, headed by student manager Richard Read, will be the first activity to get underway. Clubs, fraternities, or individuals interested in volleyball should contact the manager or coaches immediately.

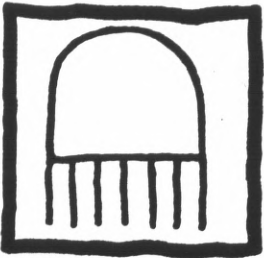

Recurrent rumors that John Milton was aboard the USS Maine when she went down with Adolph Hitler are completely false. Milton was lost at Manila Bay.

WAA Schedules Fall Activities

The Executive Board of the Women's Athletic Association held their first meeting of the semester at the home of their new adviser, Miss Nancy Butler, on September 7. Miss Butler has taken over the position that last spring was held by Miss Marguerite Clifton who has left to complete her doctorate at Stanford.

Presiding over this semester's activities will be Carol Ghens, president; Juan Rogers, vice-president; Bev Freitas, corresponding secretary; Mary Ann Rudemetkin, treasurer; Eleanor Pearce, historian; Nancy Davey, publicity chairman; Willie Walters, fall sports manager; Irene Castille, spring individual sports manager; Diane Comber, dance manager.

*Plans for future events that were discussed at the meeting are for the high school playday scheduled for October 22. The playday will be held on the SF State campus with the women athletes here as sponsors.

October 14 will be the deadline for ordering WAA blazers, it was decided. Women with four semesters of participation are eligible to order the grey jackets with the WAA emblem on the pocket, Miss Davey stated in her report.

The first clinic of the semester will be the hockey clinic at Menlo Atherton tomorrow and Sunday, October 8 and 9. Skills and techniques of field hockey will be demonstrated and taught to interested members of the Association. The following classes receive WAA credit and one-half grade college unit: Co-ed Folk and Square Dance, Tuesday 7-8:30 p.m.

Intermediate and advanced tennis, Tuesday and Thursday at 12 noon.

Intermediate and advanced swimming, Friday 10 to 11 p.m.

Volleyball and field hockey, Monday and Wednesday at 12 noon. Elementary to Advanced.

Modern Dance, Friday from 2 to 5 p.m.

Now all who savor rare and lovely objects d'art will recognize this feminine title as belonging to Lee Ann Meriwether, City College's contribution to the Miss America ranks.

Prof. Twillbrook, The Adventures of

By HAROLD PAINTER

Mrs. Twillbrook had the peculiar habit of looking over the back fence to see what her neighbors were doing.

"What are you doing?" she asked.

Robin Peckwell arose from behind a wheelbarrow with a vague smile that secretly registered triumph. "I'm inverting my African violets," he said.

"Doing what?" she asked.

"In their native habitat," he explained with unusual eagerness, "they are inverted every seven years by the unusual turbulence of the Nile floods, and often spend years with their bottoms sticking up and their leaves thrust deep in the African muds."

Mrs. Twillbrook gasped with minor astonishment.

"They've come to expect it," he continued, "and prepare themselves of knowing when a flood has been by reversing the functions of their parts. However, they have no way averted, and frequently die with their leaves gasping for water, so to speak, and their roots crying out for a lack of sunshine."

"My plants are six years old!" she cried.

"It is time for the African monsoon," he said, "I suggest you invert them quickly."

When the Professor came home the evening he found his African violets with their bottoms up and apparently taking their ordeal with stoic indifference. Mrs. Twillbrook stood by with a pleased look and trowel in hand.

"What are you doing?" he asked.

Of course what Robin Peckwell really wanted to do was squirt her with the hose.

high-priced cars, too!

Let's translate these victories into your kind of driving. You've got to have faster acceleration to win on the tracks. And that means safer passing on the highways. You've got to have better springing and suspension. For you: safer and happier motoring. You've got to have big, fast-acting brakes and easy, accurate steering. More things that make your driving safer! Come in and drive a Chevrolet yourself.

The safer car wins . . .

Club Chat with Carolyn Fisher

New Crew. Humanities Club fall officers are Evelyn Wong, president; Tom Lipsett, vice-president; and Bob Klang, secretary-treasurer. Advisers to the club are Frank D. Dollard and Arthur K. Bierman. Purpose of the organization is to introduce the students to literature, art and philosophy. Three sections formed at present are the philosophy, Italian and Spanish groups. Students interested are invited to sign up in Dollard's office, Annex C, room 2.

Political Philosophy Club, a new faculty-student organization has recently been formed on campus. Students wishing information about membership may contact Dr. Louis Wasserman or Walter Warren, president.

Alpha Omega Sorority fall officers are Patsy Speer, president; Duane Bozzini, vice-president. Roberta Larson, recording secretary; Joy Kleist, corresponding secretary; Betty Sheehy, treasurer and Jan Erickson, historian. The sorority is a service-social group, ushering at college functions and donating a scholarship each semester.

Westminster Foundation, college Presbyterian club is beginning the fall semester with two new additions to its program. The Reverend John Hadsell, graduate of the University of California and the San Francisco Theological Seminary, has assumed the position of college pastor for Presbyterian students. He is also director of all Westminster Foundations of northern California. The development of the Westminster Student Center, 19th Avenue and Eucalyptus, open daily from 3 to 5 p.m. for reading, study and recreation is another landmark in the foundation program.

Come on along, we're goin' on a hayride. Today is the last day to buy tickets for the Twenty-One Plus Club hayride and barbecue held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. starting from Big Bear Riding Academy in Oakland. Tickets may be purchased from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the college union cafeteria.

My Dog Has Fleas. Ukalele lessons given by Dick Derby began Wednesday in the Gator Swamp. The lessons will be every Wednesday at 1 p.m. No credit is offered and bring your own uke.

Tea Time Again. Social Committee of the College Business Club is holding a welcome tea for women students enrolled in business courses. The tea will be held this Sunday, October 9 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Reganfi, 719 Barcelona Drive, Millbrae. Official hostess for the event is Mrs. Regan, club adviser with Misses Cynthia Jones, Betty Gooder, and Gloria Luzzi as student hostesses.

Social Work Club at the college is holding elections this evening at 300 Page Street at 7 p.m. A speaker will round out the social group program. Students in social work courses are invited to attend.

Beta Pi Sigma, science club elected Doherty Hudson as president recently. Other officers are Edyth Yeates, vice-president; George Adams, secretary and Diana Giomi, treasurer.

Sigma Phi Sigma fall officers are Don Brawner, president; Ed Soderman, vice-president; Paul Larson, secretary; Phil Smith, treasurer; Dan Neathery, sergeant-at-arms; Dan Matarangas, custodian and Sam Citron, pledge master.

Delta Sigma Nu, home economics club here, will install fall officers and initiate new members at ceremonies Wednesday, October 12, at Dot Clement's on 137 Claremont Boulevard. Interested women are invited. Contact Grace Diem, home economics instructor or Miss Clement for information.

All Time High In Registration

Registration at San Francisco State has reached a new peak. According to the latest enrollment figures released by Dean John Bergstresser, there are exactly 8000 students in attendance.

Regular students attending number 5141, of which 292 have been classified as non-resident, thus subject to the "new" non-resident fee. Dean Bergstresser pointed out that this is the first semester in State's history with over 5000 regular students enrolled.

OFFICIAL NOTICE Program Change Deadline Nears

Students planning to change their programs or to file for applications for diplomas and or credentials were warned today by Dr. John L. Bergstresser, dean of students, that the deadlines are in the near future.

Last day for any change of program without added fee will be Tuesday, October 18. The 18th will also be the last day for dropping a course without penalty for failing work.

Deadline for students desiring to file applications for diplomas or for teacher's credentials will be Friday, October 21.
